

Jim Crowley Bio

As a multi-specie angler, Crowley has fished extensively in the United States and Canada. Jim has written articles for over 25 years for magazines such as Midwest Outdoors, Fishing Facts magazine. He has also been featured in articles in numerous publications including the Chicago Sun Times and In-fisherman magazine.

Crowley's seminars are not to be missed! One of the most entertaining and educational speakers in the country, his topics are in depth and wide ranging. Crowley has taken the same informative approach for his episodes of www.hookandhunttv.com which started in 2009. Jim has also recently added his voice to radio in his daily show for the Illinois Farm bureau. Jim Crowley Outdoors which airs on 11 stations throughout the state.

Crowley's motto: God made me a fisherman and hunter. I'm proud of both and apologize to no one.
